One major change is the certification for PNPs will only be offered by PNCB instead of both PNCB and American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC). PNCB has changed their blueprint. The current content outline is based on our 2017-18 Job Task Analysis (JTA) research. This routine, required research ensures that exam content accurately represents current pediatric primary care nurse practitioner practice in the U.S. The revised book would focus on the current blueprint, released Sept 2018"--
