Terrified and alone, she was visited by monks and followed by Native

Heade, drawing on several newly

the painter's own Brazilian journal.

Stebbins tells of Heade's training and early career as an itinerant portraitist and discusses his move to New York, where,
under the influence of Frederic E. Church, he

Heade's relationships with patrons and dealers, writers and scientists, and he sheds new light on Heade's trips to Brazil, to the tropics, and to London.

And he describes Heade's move to Florida in 1883, which marked
