Real Business of IT: How CIOs Create and Communicate Value ...

Starting a small business doesn't mean that you need a lot of money upfront. In fact, it's possible to start a business with little to no money. However, every business will require some sort of initial investment as well as the ability to cover ongoing expenses until you're making a profit. Because of this, you need to plan your finances before you get too far.

The sale of a business usually is not a sale of one asset. Instead, all the assets of the business are sold. Generally, when this occurs, each asset is treated as being sold separately for determining the treatment of gain or loss. A business usually has many assets. When sold, these assets must be classified as capital assets, depreciable property used in the business, real property used in the business, or property held for sale to customers, such as inventory or stock in trade.
