track contest. Grant Falloon isn't just good at track; he's close to breaking the world record 100-meter time for his age group. So when the mega-rich Babblemoney sneaker company announces an international competition to find the fastest kid in the world, he's desperate to sign up. But not so fast. Nothing's ever that easy with the eccentric Falloon family. Turns out, his non-conformist parents never got him a legal birth certificate. He can't race for the United States, so now if he wants to compete, he may just have to invent his own country. And even if that crazy plan works, winning gold will mean knocking his best friend—and biggest competitor—Jay, out of the competition. As unexpected hurdles arise, Grant will have to ask not only if winning is possible, but what he's willing to sacrifice for it.

By harnessing new, easy-to-use technologies that help them find customers around the world, everyday people are starting meaningful businesses that offer a high-paying alternative to a corporate career. or grow a business of any kind, a book can help you do that. But where to begin? After a big New York publisher told them their book would never sell more than 5,000 copies, authors Richard Fenton & Andrea Waltz had a decision to make: believe the publisher's assessment and quit or publish the book themselves. Fortunately, they made the right decision. Fast-forward 15 years, their book Go for No! has sold in excess of 400,000 copies, reached #1 on multiple Amazon sub-lists and has been translated into nine languages. More importantly, the book continues to sell extremely well. So how did they do it? Were they simply lucky? No. And what about the one they wrote that flopped? Was that just unlucky? Nope. As it turns out, there's a formula - a formula that, if followed, will give an author the best possible chance at success. And you're about to learn it. Grab this book now!

"If you care about your financial future and if you don't want to get ripped off by the financial industry, read this book now."

(Daven Michaels, NY Times bestselling author)

Are you investing with the help of financial advisers, money managers or bankers?
