7th Edition rules had units determine their movement ranges via type. For example, infantry could move 6", bikes and cavalry could move more, etc.
This meant that if you forget the movement capabilities of a unit type you'd have to pick up your rule book, trawl through the pages, etc. 8th truly knocks this one out of the park.
